PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oil and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases; if they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night, it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses you after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth, throat three or four times a day.

If you have the [illegible] relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will [illegible]

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it [illegible] ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the [illegible] your valor must save.

FRIDAY MORNING, DEC. 5, 1862.

GOVERNMENT NOTES.—We received last evening the following copy of proceedings of a meeting held on Wednesday last by the good people of the Dalles, relative to the taking of United States Treasury Notes at par. This meeting was called after a certain few money speculators and those who desire to discredit the Government had met in that city and resolved not to take "greenbacks" at par, and the sentiments expressed in the resolutions in the following proceedings, although somewhat ultra, are nevertheless right and proper and no more than should be expressed and carried out by every one who has the welfare, honor and reputation of his Government at heart. It is true the merchants and traders of this section cannot take Government notes at par without losing on them so long as money dealers in San Francisco and New York refuse to take them at par, but if the people everywhere resolved to deal with those only who will take them at par, we are satisfied that all would soon readily do so. And the merchant or trader who raises the price on his goods because he is compelled to take these notes at par, should be regarded in the same light as those who refuse to take them at par in payment for goods. There is no difference between the two. But read the proceedings:

DALLES, OREGON, Dec. 3, 1862.

Pursuant to a call published in the Mountaineer, the citizens of the Dalles convened at the court house for the purpose of taking into consideration the subject of the currency of the Government, and were organized by electing N. H. Gates, President, and J. W. Johnson, Secretary.

On motion, O. Humason, Victor Trevitt and O. N. Denny were appointed a committee to draft resolutions expressive of the sentiments of the meeting; whereupon, on motion of W. H. Newell, the meeting took a recess of half an hour.

The meeting again came to order, and the committee reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting any person, who shall in any manner attempt to depreciate the established currency of our Government, is considered by us as an enemy to his country, and unworthy of either the confidence or support of good citizens.

Resolved, That we, the laboring and producing citizens of the Dalles and vicinity, pledge ourselves to trade only with persons who are patriotic enough to take the faith of the Government at par.

After remarks by Messrs. Humason, Denny, Trevitt, Reynolds, Smith, Meigs and Johnson, the first resolution was adopted with but two dissenting voices; the second resolution was unanimously adopted.

On motion of Mr. Reynolds, the Secretary was instructed to furnish the Mountaineer and the Portland papers with a copy of the proceedings of this meeting for publication.

N. H. GATES, President.

J. W. JOHNSON, Secretary.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.—Capt. C. H. Hale, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Washington Territory, passed through this city yesterday, en route for Lewiston and the Lapwai Agency. He goes up there for the purpose of meeting and holding a consultation with the Chiefs of the different tribes in that region relative to their annuities and the stipulations of treaties, etc., but from unavoidable circumstances, which cannot be altered except by instructions from the proper departments at Washington, he cannot come to any definite arrangements with them relative to the immense reserve which covers Lewiston and other desirable locations for settlement by the whites. He hopes, however, to be able to quiet the Indians, or those of them who are reported uneasy and liable to become troublesome, and also satisfy the people of Lewiston that he is doing everything that can be done to bring about the change so much desired and relieve them of their present embarrassed situation. We are satisfied that Mr. Hale has been constantly and earnestly engaged since taking possession of the office of Superintendent, in doing all that any one could do to straighten the general confusion into which the affairs of the Indian Department of that Territory had gotten since the discovery of gold in the upper country.

PEOPLE'S TRANSPORTATION LINE.—A meeting of the stockholders in the People's Transportation line took place in this city yesterday, and after continuing in session until about 8 o'clock last night, adjourned to meet again to-day. The meeting is for the purpose of forming a permanent organization, and the adoption of Constitution and By-Laws for the government of the company, and to place the capital subscribed into active operation. The following named gentlemen were elected Directors: David McCully, C. S. Kingsley, Leonard White, Stephen Coffin and S. D. Church. The election of a President, Secretary, &c., will probably take place to-day.

NEWSPAPERS IN THE SOUTH.—There is not a single type foundry south of Baltimore, and most of the Southern papers, unless they succeed in getting type from Europe, will be compelled, in the course of a year, to suspend publication on account of the worn-out condition of the type from which they are printed.

The telegraphic communication now in course of construction by Mr. Reuter, through Russia, Siberia and Mongolia, to connect Pekin with St. Petersburg and London, is expected to be completed in six months.

From Olympia

OLYMPIA, Dec. 1st, 1862.

Editor Oregonian:

The tenth regular session of the Legislative Assembly of this Territory convened at the Capitol in this city at ten o'clock A. M. to-day. The House was temporarily organized by the selection of Hon. Chas. Eagan Speaker, pro tem., J. S. Hurd, Chief Clerk, N. S. Porter, Assistant Clerk, Thos. Feather, Sergeant-at-Arms, and D. Shorda, Door Keeper. After appointing a committee of five on credentials, the House adjourned until to-morrow at ten o'clock.

Several members from the upper counties are yet absent. In view of this fact, and the probabilities of a hot contest for the Speakership, several days may elapse before a permanent organization is effected. Prominent among the candidates for Speaker are Mr. Bagly, of Clalam, ex Speaker Ferguson, M. S. Griswold, Mr. Reed of Idaho, and Mr. Fletcher, of Clark. It is impossible, at this writing, to say who will be the fortunate individual in the race, though the chances seem more favorable for either one or the other of the two last mentioned.

In the Council, although a quorum was in town, not even a temporary organization was effected. Only two appearing in the Chamber, and after having been called to order by the late Chief Clerk, adjourned over until to-morrow. On no former occasion have we ever witnessed so many petty office seekers. It is said that there are more candidates for clerks, sergeant-at-arms, &c., than there are members composing both branches of the Legislature. This, perhaps, is all well enough, as it gives the members an opportunity to select good and competent officers. But what a striking feature in our character as a people, this inordinate desire for office demonstrates, and how plainly is to be seen its attendant evil effects. Many leave humble and profitable callings in which they have a guaranty of a comfortable support for themselves and families, and many advantages which they disregard or fail to realize, and which might tend eventually to both enrich and otherwise place them on a solid footing in society—commanding that degree of respect and influence seldom, if ever, attained by the petty office seeker. But they imagine that to obtain an office is to secure a lasting fortune and imperishable honor. What folly!

This, to the people of the Territory, will be among the most important sessions convened since our Territorial organization. In view of the rapid and constantly increasing immigration in our Territorial limits east of the mountains, and the progressive developments of our great mineral and agricultural resources, it devolves upon our legislators for a wise and faithful discharge of duty, in enacting such laws as will protect the citizen in all his legitimate rights of person and property, conduce to the general welfare of the people, and meet the present exigencies of the times. Will they do it?

We have but little acquaintance with a greater portion of the members, but so far as that acquaintance goes, it is of a hopeful character, and we earnestly look forward with much confidence for a favorable result.

The M. W. Grand Lodge of F. and A. Masons, convened in this city to-day at two o'clock. I understand there is not a full representation from all the lodges present.

The weather is fine and beautiful as Spring. The grand ball at Steilacoom on Friday last was a complete success. It was given in aid of the Sanitary Fund.

OLYMPUS.

Major Generals of Volunteers.

We find in looking over statistics that New York, directly and indirectly, gives eleven Major Generals to the war. Of these, Major Generals Henry W. Slocum, John J. Peck, George W. Morell, Schuyler Hamilton and Gordon Granger were born in and appointed from the State. John A. Dix was born in New Hampshire, and Edwin D. Morgan and Edwin V. Sumner in Massachusetts, though all were appointed from New York. Samuel R. Curtis, born in New York, was appointed from Iowa.

Massachusetts gives seven Major Generals to the war, of whom only one was born in and appointed from her—Nathaniel P. Banks. Major Gen. B. F. Butler was born in New Hampshire, D. N. Couch in New York, while E. D. Morgan and E. V. Sumner were appointed from New York, E. D. Keyes from Maine and gallant old "fighting Joe" Hooker from California.

Pennsylvania gives birth to four Major Generals and appoints five. Geo. Cadwalader, J. G. Parke, S. P. Heintzelman (that "grim veteran") and Wm. B. Franklin were born in and appointed from the "Keystone." J. L. Reno was of Virginian birth.

New Hampshire has four Maj. Generals in service, of whom but one, J. G. Foster, was appointed from her. Gen. Dix was appointed from New York, B. F. Butler from Massachusetts, and F. J. Porter (a New Englander with strong Southern proclivities of old) from the District of Columbia.

Ohio is prolific in Major Generals, and literally swarms with Brigadiers. Ohio has nine Major Generals, of whom I. McDowell, W. T. Sherman, A. McD. McCook, R. C. Schenck, Wm. S. Rosecrans and S. B. McPherson are natives of her soil. U. S. Grant (Ohio born) was appointed from Illinois, and D. C. Buell from Indiana. J. D. Cox, appointed from Ohio, was born in Canada.

Illinois has five Major Generals, of whom not one was born on her soil. D. Hunter was born in the District of Columbia, J. Pope and J. A. McClernand in Kentucky, U. S. Grant in Ohio, and S. A. Hurlbut (brother to Wm. H. Hurlbut of the New York Times) in South Carolina.

Missouri has two Major Generals, Ethan A. Hitchcock, born in Vermont, and Franz Sigel, born in Germany.

Rhode Island has one Major General, Ambrose E. Burnside, born in Indiana. (Banks, Burnside, McClellan, and Rosecrans, were all, previous to the war, attached to the Illinois Central Railroad.)

Indiana has two double-starred officers, Lewis Wallace, born in it, and Don Carlos Buell, appointed from it, though born in Ohio.

Iowa has one Major General, Samuel R. Curtis, born in New York.

Kentucky gives birth to six Major Generals and appoints three, to-wit: Cassius M. Clay, William Nelson, (deceased,) and Thomas L. Crittenden. Astronomer General Ormsby M. Mitchell was appointed from New York, and Generals Pope and McClernand from Illinois, as previously set forth.

Virginia gives two Major Generals and appoints one—George H. Thomas. The other Virginian, Jesse L. Reno, ("dead on the field of honor,") was appointed from Pennsylvania.

The District of Columbia, by the way, appoints two Major Generals, Edward O. C. Ord, born in Maryland, and Fitz John Porter, in New Hampshire. Gen. Hunter, born in it, was appointed from Illinois.

Maine appoints one Major General, Erasmus D. Keyes, born in Massachusetts.

New Jersey has no Major General. The only one she ever had, Philip Kearny, also "dead on the field of honor," was born in New York.

California, is of course too much in her infancy to have given birth to any Major General. But in the selection of Joseph Hooker, born in Massachusetts to be her standard bearer, she evinces a taste and judgment entitling her to become the mother of Generals immediately.

Michigan appoints one Major General, but he is not a Michigander. Israel B. Richardson was born in Vermont.

Vermont's only native born Major General is Wm. F. Smith. Ethan A. Hitchcock was appointed from Missouri, and Israel B. Richardson from Michigan.

Connecticut thinks Major Generalities are not to be [illegible] on other States' children, and so gives her own two to her two sons, John Sedgewick and H. G. Wright.

South Carolina comes last in the list, Illinois proudly taking the responsibility of appointing a son of the "stiff necked Palmetto generation" in the person of Stephen A. Hurlbut, an officer, who, though not devoid of faults, bears a deservedly high reputation for gallantry, decision and the qualities which most adorn a commander.

DIED:

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The ladies of the First Presbyterian Church desire to tender their thanks to the citizens of Portland for the liberal patronage [illegible] on Wednesday evening last at the Ladies' Fair. Total receipts, $580 25; net proceeds, $500 00.

The officers of the Society would further avail themselves of the privilege of correcting a false report which operated in preventing many from attending this Fair. We have reference to the story that we did not give proper money change at our Fair in September, 1861; that we would keep all and every piece of money offered in payment of articles. Only one instance of this kind has ever occurred, and that was done by mistake, which when discovered, we immediately went to the gentleman who had paid the money and offered him his change, which he refused to accept. The money was then deposited in the Treasury and the amount entered upon our books as donated by this gentleman.

WHY OUR TREASURE SHIPS ARE SPARED.—England, though she has furnished the Confederates with their ammunition, guns and "navy," has but one pirate of her own, cruising on the high seas for our commerce. That one is the Alabama. It has been much wondered why the Alabama does not tackle the California steamers between Aspinwall and New York. The reason seems obvious on a moment's reflection. About nine tenths of the treasure shipped from San Francisco to New York is said to be insured in English offices. Wolves do not tear each other; savages do not scalp their own friends; and very naturally Capt. Semmes, in an English ship, spares treasure, though in American bottoms, when insured by Englishmen.—Sentinel.

THE THOUSANDTH BIRTHDAY OF RUSSIA.—Letters from St. Petersburg state that Russia celebrated her thousandth birthday on the 2[illegible]th of September. There were great rejoicings at St. Petersburg and Moscow, but the chief festival was held at Novgorod, where the commemorative monument was uncovered. The Imperial family visited Novgorod on the occasion, and the Emperor's journey was marked by enthusiastic demonstrations of the peasantry.

It is stated that Mr. Hamlin, Vice President, has never been very intimate with the present Administration, and if he has any particular influence over it he has not attempted to use it at any time.

The Chiriqui negro colonization scheme is abandoned, although it is said that thirteen thousand colored people had signified to Senator Pomeroy their willingness to leave the country for Central America.

There is a plant in the island of Sumatra the circumference of whose fully expanded flower is nine feet, its nectarium is calculated to hold nine pints, the pistils are as large as cow's horns, and the whole weight of the blossom is computed to be fifteen pounds.

Beyond the River

[illegible]

There are our loved ones in their rest;
They've crossed Time's river. Now no more
They heed the bubbles on its breast,
Nor feel the storms that sweep its shore.
But there pure love can live, can last,
They look for us their home to share,
When we in turn away have passed.
What joyful greetings wait us there—
Beyond the river.

Thanksgiving Day at Lafayette.

LAFAYETTE, Nov. 28, 1862.

Editor Oregonian:

Yesterday, according to appointment of Governor Gibbs, and by subsequent arrangement of the friends of good order here, a large concourse of the citizens of Yamhill county met at the Church in this place to listen to a discourse from Rev. John Spencer, the "Old Man Eloquent." The service was commenced by singing an appropriate piece, after which the 18th Psalm was read. Then, as though he fully appreciated the sublimity and grandeur of the occasion, the venerable patriarch, kneeling in the presence of the congregation, lifted his eyes to Heaven and offered up one of those soul stirring and eloquent prayers, such as he is so peculiarly gifted in. It is impossible to describe the simplicity and frankness of his manner, the sincerity and profound humility that seems to take possession of him during such occasions.

His text was the first four verses of the 106th Psalm. The substantial points in his discourse were: That the moral status of the Nation has within a few years past been greatly lowered; that while this country has been making rapid advancement in science and art, it has sadly deteriorated in those qualities that go to make up the aggregate of stimulus on which the soul must feast forever. He caused dead empires of antiquity to give evidence of the appalling danger there is in a Nation's neglecting the development of its moral powers.

The fountain of democratic liberty had been poisoned by the dishonest political mounte-banks of the land for the purpose of elevating themselves to important places of public trust, to the exclusion of the honest, sincere and virtuous. To such an alarming extent had they vitiated the public morals that a wise, discreet and Christian man could no longer with propriety express himself on the great topics of political controversy, much less dare to aspire to a public office of much importance without it being bespattered all over with filth by these enemies of the public morals, and consequently enemies of the country; that the day was fast drawing nigh when political charlatanry and vice in high places must come down, for which reason the devout and good of all lands ought to rejoice and be glad.

He reviewed the results of the discussion of the slavery question in Church and State during the last thirty years, in which he displayed the trenchant thought and exquisite perception of a great master in political and ecclesiastical literature. From the great battles that are now being fought, which are to become part of history and universal speech, radical political movements are to date, possessing the coherent elements of Union, Order, Justice and Right, bearing the impress of stern, logical truth, and backed by the puissant forces of the throne of God.

The people went away satisfied that a day of Thanksgiving ordered by the Governor annually is a good thing. All appeared to be glad to return to the old paths, from which the predecessor of the present Executive of the State of Oregon had so wofully strayed.

THE QUESTION TO DECIDE.—Gen. Stanley, who commands a division of the army near Corinth, made an address to his soldiers, recently, in which he said:

"Remember that we are solving with our bayonets one of the great questions of history—the domination of caste; the question whether a cruel oligarchy, who, forgetful of that simple and sublime command of our Savior, "Love thy neighbor as thyself," claims the right to live upon the unrequited labor of his neighbors, shall rule and dictate the destinies of our country."

ENGLISH SPECULATION.—The value of ten English steamers lately captured while attempting to run our blockade, with their cargoes, cannot fall far short of the large sum of four million of dollars, and it is fair to suppose that losses of this magnitude cannot be sustained for any lengthy period, no matter how large the profit may be from successful voyages. If Englishmen like this kind of speculation, it is hoped they will continue in it. The steamers, particularly, are very valuable to us at this time.

FOND OF BULL-BAITING.—It is positively stated that the fair and gentle Eugenie's taste for bull-baiting is to be gratified by the introduction of the sport into Paris. The celebrated El Tato, engaged for Paris at a great expense, and the genuine performance with real blood, gored horses, wounded men, and trailing entrails, was to begin at the Passy Hippodrome on the 3d November.

STILL THEY COME.—The ship Silistria, Capt. Jocelin, from Liverpool, with two hundred and fifty passengers, arrived in Esquimalt harbor, V. I., on Sunday evening, Nov. 16th. The passengers are all in good health; sixteen of them are females. Intelligence has been received of the sailing of another vessel from England with sixty young women on board.

GOVERNOR'S PRIVATE SECRETARY.—Charles Eagan, Esq., has been appointed private secretary of Gov. Pickering: that office being made vacant by the appointment of Mr. Evans as Territorial Secretary.—Puget Sound Herald.

RETURNED TO DUTY.—Lieut. J. M. Selden, of the revenue service, has again returned to duty, and is now acting as first officer of the steam cutter Shubrick.—Ib.

DIED.—B. S. Olds, Acting Asst. Surgeon, U. S. A., at Fort Steilacoom, died last Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock. His remains were interred on Monday last, in the cemetery on the Military Reserve, by the Masonic fraternity of Steilacoom.—Ib.

The revenue received during the present year at the San Francisco Custom House has exceeded that of any similar time. The total for 1862 is $3,344,075 08.

Beautifying Homes.

What a beautiful fall for gardening, such as transplanting, setting out, taking up, dividing and regulating such plants as we want to multiply, planting bulbs and sowing some seed.

I have been very busy during the past month, transplanting my old rose bushes into well manured ground, dug 20 inches deep. This renews and invigorates the plants, and they make better wood and produce more flowers. I have planted out all layers of last summer, young plants and sprouts. I have divided the roots of paeonias, dielytras, phlox, hollyhocks, perennial larkspurs, &c.

By this you see, Mr Editor, that I regard the fall as the very best time for planting shrubs and flowers. If I am afraid of the frost driving out the small plants, I throw around them some mulching, such as fine chips from the wood house, tan bark, or even boards snugly layed up to the plants, will keep them in their places. As long as this fine weather continues, all this can be done.

Dahlias I have saved very well by taking them up just before frost, say first of December, and planting them in boxes in dry soil and put in a cellar, or by planting them in a cold bed. I have a purple verbena that has wintered out these ten years; but most of the finer sort are tender—yet this common favorite is worth a little trouble.

All China and bouquet roses are much benefitted by potting in the fall and being kept in the house. What frost they get in the house where a fire is kept, will not hurt them. Or plant them in a cold pit.

Large bushes of these tender roses can be left out, but must be protected in this way: Cut some strong hooks or pegs, bend the stem of the rose gently down to the ground, put the peg over it and press it firmly in the ground. Two hooks of eight or ten inches long will keep down any stem, and then cover the whole bush thus pegged to the ground about four inches deep with earth, and it will come out in the spring all right—but this should not be done till the last day before the cold snap.

The following varieties should be taken up or protected: White Tea, Louis Philippe, Safrano, Cromatella, Solfaterre, Madam Provost, Mad Malmaison, and others that have been frozen in the limbs heretofore.

The Fuschia that has red staffs and dark red flowers should be cut down close to the ground, and then covered about six inches with earth. The White Fuschia must be housed. Verbenas can be taken up now, planted in pots and easily wintered in the house.

In conclusion, I will give a hint how to prepare bee-hives for winter. About this time I turn up every hive, smoke the bees down, and then cut away all the empty comb till I get to the honey; or if the honey comes down too low, I cut it also away. The object of this treatment is to provide a place where the bees can set together without being divided by the comb, and keep themselves warm and dry; another advantage is, there is no surplus comb to get moldy, wet and frozen. I consider this mode of treating bees indispensable in our moist winters; but as soon as the bees get acclimated and web-footed, this won't be necessary.

ENGLISH IMPUDENCE IN NEW ORLEANS.—A correspondent of the New York Times, writing from New Orleans, lately, says:

In front of our city, in the midst of our fleet of ships and gunboats, is the British vessel of war, the Rinaldo, famous for carrying Slidell and Mason to Nassau. When the evening comes, and the levee is crowded with our citizens, the officers of this piratical craft amuse themselves and insult our ships and the people ashore by playing the "Bonnie blue flag," the supposed national air of the rebel States. There is also occasionally flying, in some part of the rigging, a bit of bunting, made as nearly like the Confederate rag as possible. It is also understood, that when ladies visit this vessel, they are generally selected for their secession proclivities, and that the United States, President Lincoln and General Butler come in for all sorts of vulgar abuse. It is, perhaps, a small matter, but it shows the spirit of these British officers and the forbearance of our Government. I trust that when we settle our own little domestic affairs, we will have the disposition, as we have the power, to make Great Britain learn good manners, if we cannot teach her honesty. I would say, by the way, that the officers of the Rinaldo speak of Slidell as that "d—asted feller that won all their money at cards, you see."

CRINOLINE.—A clergyman has administered the following warning to crinoline wearers: "Let women beware, while puting on their profuse and expansive attire, how narrow are the gates of Paradise."

The pirate steamer "290"—so called because 290 British rebel sympathizers subscribed to build her—has destroyed whaling vessels valued at $130,000.

TREATIES.

By the President of the United States of America,

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS a Postal Convention between the United States of America and the Republic of Mexico, was concluded and signed at the city of Mexico on the eleventh day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, which Convention, being in the English and Spanish languages, is, word for word, as follows:

Postal Convention between the United States of America and the United Mexican States.

The United States of America and the United Mexican States, being desirous of drawing more closely the friendly relations existing between the two countries and of facilitating the prompt and regular transmission of correspondence between their respective territories, have resolved to conclude a Postal Convention, and have named as their Plenipotentiaries, that is to say: the President of the United States of America has appointed Thomas Corwin, a citizen of the United States and their Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near the Mexican Government, and the President of the United Mexican States has appointed Sebastian Lerdo de Tejada, a citizen of the said States and a deputy of the Congress of the Union, who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following articles:

Article I. There shall be charged upon all letters, newspapers, reviews, or other periodical publications, printed pamphlets, or other printed matter, conveyed either by United States or by Mexican vessels, between a port in the United States of America and a port in Mexico, the following sea rates of postage, that is to say:

1. Upon all letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, the rate of seven cents; and upon all letters weighing more than half an ounce an additional rate of seven cents for each additional half ounce or fraction thereof.

2. Upon every newspaper, daily or other, the rate of one cent.

3. Upon reviews or other periodical publications, printed pamphlets, or other printed matter, the rate of one cent for every [illegible] ounce or fraction of an ounce weight.

The said newspapers, reviews or other periodical publications, printed pamphlets, or other printed matter, shall be sent in narrow bands or covers open at the sides or ends, so that they may be readily examined, subject to the laws and regulations of each country, respectively.

Article II. There shall be charged by the post office of the United States of America upon all letters, newspapers, printed pamphlets, or other printed matter mailed in the United States and forwarded to Mexico by sea, whether by United States or by Mexican vessels, such rates of inland postage as are now or may hereafter be established by the laws of the United States, and the rate of sea postage prescribed in article first, which inland and sea postage shall be combined into one rate and paid always in advance.

Such prepayment shall be certified by the appropriate stamps of the United States post office, and the postage so paid shall belong exclusively to the United States of America.

There shall be charged by the post office of the United Mexican States upon all letters, newspapers, printed pamphlets, or other printed matter mailed in Mexico and forwarded to the United States of America by sea, whether by Mexican or by United States vessels, such rates of inland postage as are now or may hereafter be established by the laws of Mexico, and the rate of sea postage prescribed in article first, which inland and sea postage shall be combined into one rate and paid always in advance.

Such prepayment shall be certified by the appropriate stamps of the post office of the United Mexican States, and the postage so paid shall belong exclusively to Mexico.

Article III. Upon all letters, newspapers, printed pamphlets, or other printed matter received in the United States of America from Mexico by sea, there will be charged by the United States such rates of inland postage as are now, or may hereafter be established by the laws of the United States, which shall be collected at the place of destination, and shall belong exclusively to the United States of America, and vice versa upon all letters, newspapers, printed pamphlets, or other printed matter received in Mexico from the United States of America by sea, there will be charged by Mexico such rates of inland postage as are now, or may hereafter be, established by the laws of Mexico, which shall be collected at the place of destination, and shall belong exclusively to Mexico.

Article IV. All letters, newspapers, printed pamphlets or other printed matter mailed in the United States of America, and addressed to any place in the United Mexican States, or vice versa, when not conveyed by sea, shall be charged with the rate of inland postage of the country from which such mail matter is sent, which shall be prepaid, and with the inland postage of the country receiving, which shall be collected at the place of destination.

Article V. All letters, newspapers, printed pamphlets, or other printed matter mailed in the one country for the other, or received in the one country from the other, whether by land or sea conveyance, shall be free from any detention or inspection whatever, and shall in the one case be forwarded by the most speedy means to their destination, and in the other be promptly delivered to the respective persons to whom they are addressed, being subject in their transmission to the laws and regulations of each country respectively.

Article VI. So soon as steam or other mail packets, under the flag of either of the contracting parties, shall have commenced running between their respective ports of entry, whether under subvention from the United States or from Mexico, the contracting parties agree to receive at those ports all mailable matter, and to forward it as directed, the destination being to some regular post office of either country, charging thereupon the rates established by the present convention.

Mails for the United States of America shall be made up at regular intervals by the Mexican post office, and dispatched to ports of the United States, and, in the same manner, mails for Mexico shall be made up at regular intervals by the United States post office, and dispatched to Mexico.

Article VII. The United Mexican States engage to grant to the United States of America the transit, in closed mails, free from any postage, duties, imposts, detention, or examination whatever, through the United Mexican States, or any of their possessions or territories, of letters, newspapers, printed pamphlets, or other printed matter, forwarded from the United States of America, or any of their possessions or territories, to any other possession or territory of the United States of America, or to any foreign country, or from any foreign country, or possession or territory of the United States of America, to the United States of America, their possessions or territories.

A mail agent of the United States of America shall be permitted to accompany the closed mails in their transit.

The United States of America, on their part, engage to grant to the United Mexican States the transit, in closed mails, free from any postage, duties, imposts, detention, or examination whatever, through the United States of America, or any of their possessions or territories, of letters, newspapers, printed pamphlets, or other printed matter, forwarded from the United Mexican States, or any of their possessions or territories, to any other Mexican possession or territory, or to any foreign country, or from any foreign country, or Mexican possession or territory, to the United Mexican States, their possessions or territories.

A mail agent of Mexico shall be permitted to accompany the closed mails in their transit.

Article VIII. The means of making the transit of closed mails, under the stipulations of article seventh of the present Convention, shall be arranged between the general post office departments of the two countries, subject to the approbation of each Government respectively.

Article IX. In case of the misfortune of war between the two nations, the mail service of the two post offices shall continue without impediment or molestation until six weeks after a notification shall have been made, on the part of either of the two Governments, and delivered to the other, that the service is to be discontinued; and in such case the mail packets of the two countries shall be permitted to return freely, and under special protection, to their respective ports.

Article X. The respective post office regulations and rates of postage of each of the contracting parties shall be communicated to, and all matters of detail arising out of the stipulations of this convention shall be settled between the General Post Office Departments of the two republics as soon as possible after the exchange of the ratifications of the present convention.

It is also agreed that the measures of detail referred to in this article may be modified by the two General Post Office Departments whenever, by mutual consent, those Departments shall have decided that such modifications would be beneficial to the post office service of the two countries; and Mexico proposes, as soon as her means of internal transportation will permit, to reduce her present rates of inland postage.

Article XI. The present convention shall continue in force until it shall be abrogated by the mutual consent of the two contracting parties, or until one of them shall have given twelve months previous notice to the other of a desire to abrogate it.

Article XII. This convention shall be ratified in conformity with the Constitutions of the two countries, and the ratifications shall be exchanged in the city of Mexico within six months from the date hereof, or earlier if possible.

In witness whereof, we, the Plenipotentiaries of the United States of America and of the United Mexican States, have signed and sealed these presents.

Done in the city of Mexico, on the eleventh day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, the eighty-sixth of the independence of the United States of America, and the forty-first of that of the United Mexican States.

THOMAS CORWIN,
SEB'N LERDO DE TEJADA.

And whereas the said Convention has been duly ratified on both parts, and the respective ratifications of the same were exchanged in the city of Mexico on the twentieth ultimo:

Now, therefore, be it known that I, ABRAHAM LINCOLN, President of the United States of America, have caused the said Treaty to be made public, to the end that the same, and every clause and article thereof, may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States and the citizens thereof.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this twentieth of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, [L. S.] and of the Independence of the United States of America the eighty-sixth.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
